

- 232 Joggers may run or dash across the road unexpectedly without any regard for vehicles on the road. Always be alert and give way to them if necessary.

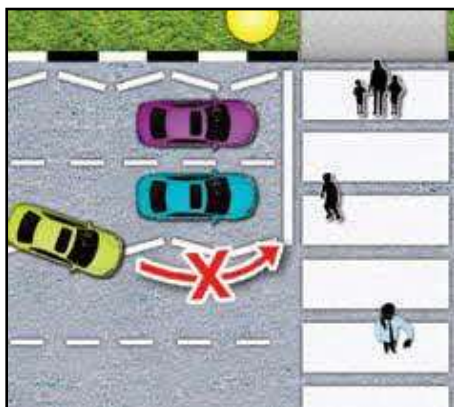

- 233 Pedestrians have the right of way at a Zebra Crossing. Zig-zag lines are drawn on the road to give you advance warning of the Zebra Crossing ahead.

- 234 When stopping for pedestrians to cross, stop well before the stop line.

On approaching a Zebra Crossing, slow down and look out for pedestrians crossing the road. Do not park, overtake or accelerate within the area marked by the zig-zag lines.

- 235 When the visibility of a zebra crossing is poor, Pedestrian Crossing Ahead Markings (PCAMs) are painted on the road to alert you that a zebra crossing is hidden out of sight.
